

IMPORTANT: Investment involves risk, including the loss of principal. Investors should refer to the Prospectus and Key Facts Statement of the Premia BOCHK Saudi Arabia Government Sukuk ETF ("ETF") for details, including the risk factors. Investors should not base investment decisions on this marketing material alone. Investors should note:

The ETF aims to provide investment results that, before fees and expenses, closely correspond to the performance of iBoxx Tadawul Government & Agencies Sukuk Index (SAR Unhedged) TRI ("Index"). There can be no assurance that the ETF will achieve its investment objective.

- Sukuk and fixed income instruments related risk: Sukuk certificates represent ownership interests in underlying Sukuk assets and pricing is therefore based on the value of those underlying assets and the income they generate. There are certain risks specific to Sukuk such as Shariah Compliance, where any non-compliance with Sharia principles can cause investors to suffer losses if a Sharia board revokes approval and Asset Related risks, which can lead to losses if an underlying asset loses value or is seized. Sukuk holders may not recover their principal unlike bondholders with contractual debt claims.
- Sovereign and quasi-sovereign Sukuk risk: the governmental entity that controls the payment or redemption of sovereign Sukuk and quasi-sovereign Sukuk may not be able or willing to pay the principal and/or profit/return when due in accordance with the terms of such debt or may request the Sub-Fund to participate in restructuring such debts.
- Saudi Arabia concentration risk - The Sub-Fund's investments are concentrated in Saudi Arabia. The value of Sub-Fund may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event in Saudi Arabia, and may therefore be more volatile than that of a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments.
- Economic risk - The economy of Saudi Arabia is dominated by petroleum exports. Consequently, a sustained decrease in petroleum prices could have a negative impact on all aspects of the economy of Saudi Arabia.
- Political risk - Saudi Arabia has historically experienced strained relations with economic partners worldwide, including other countries in the Middle East due to geopolitical events. The performance of the Sub-Fund may be affected by political developments in Saudi Arabia, changes in government policies and changes in regulatory requirements.
- Legal and regulatory risks - The Saudi legal system is based on Shari'ah law. The outcome of previously determined cases would not be binding in nature, the interpretation and enforcement of applicable Saudi laws and regulations involves significant uncertainties.
- Emerging market risk - Saudi Arabia is an emerging market and may involve increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in other developed markets, such as liquidity risks, currency risks/control, political and economic uncertainties, legal and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree of volatility.
- Potential market volatility risk - Market volatility may result in significant fluctuation in the prices of Securities traded on the Saudi Exchange, which would therefore impact upon the Net Asset Value of the Sub-Fund.
- Electronic trading platform risk - Brokers submit trade orders through an electronic system which is linked and received by the Saudi Exchange's system. The use of electronic systems by the broker or the Saudi Exchange is subject to software, hardware, or communication failure which may cause halts or delays in acquiring the intended securities for the Sub-Fund.
- Saudia Arabia tax risk - There are risks and uncertainties associated with the Saudi tax laws, regulations and practice. Any increased tax liabilities on the Sub-Fund may adversely affect the Sub-Fund's value.
