- WHY LONG DURATION CHINA GOVT ETF?

- China as world's 2nd largest bond market after the US, has grown to USD 21 trillion* in size with market breadth and depth
- Inclusion in major global bond indices underway - including Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index, JP Morgan Global Bond Index - Emerging Market and FTSE World Government Bond Index (WGBI).
- More stable mark-to-market risk profile and yield volatility Stable monetary policies allow Chinese government debt securities to have more stable yield volatility and less mark-to-market risk compared to developed markets facing hawkish rate hike cycles.
- Diversification benefits given negative or low correlation with most other sovereign bonds.
- Unique long duration asset with A1 sovereign bond rating and attractive yield for investors with long duration asset liability management needs, it offers Chinese government bonds unique access to long duration exposure with attractive combination of A1 sovereign debt rating and meaningful yield.
- Convenient, transparent and low-cost access - No need to open accounts for access channels onshore or offshore through Bond Connect and offers daily liquidity accessible through the HKEx.
- USD hedged unit class available for investors looking to maintain USD based return.
